- ✓ Customized
- ✓ Modular design

The Side conveyor is a basic machine designed for lateral feeding of boards. It has a modular design that allows for adjustment of both width and length to suit customer-specific requirements.

Depending on line placement, the conveyor can be equipped with different types of chains and additional accessories, such as catch plates and spill grates.

The conveyor can also be installed at an angle, both in height and sideways, to match the layout of the sawline.
